Information Other than the Financial Information and Auditors' Report Thereon

The directors of the Manager (the "directors") are responsible for the other information. The other information comprises the information contained in the Annual Report of the Funds, but does not include the financial information of the Funds and our auditors' report thereon.

Our opinion on the financial information of the Funds does not cover the other information and we do not express any form of assurance conclusion thereon.

In connection with our audit of the financial information of the Funds, our responsibility is to read the other information and, in doing so, consider whether the other information is materially inconsistent with the financial information of the Funds or our knowledge obtained in the audit or otherwise appears to be materially misstated.

Independent auditors' report to the unitholders of the Investment-linked funds of Zurich Takaful Malaysia Berhad (cont'd.) (Incorporated in Malaysia)

Responsibilities of the directors for the Financial Information (cont'd.)

In preparing the financial information of the Funds, the directors are responsible for assessing the Funds' ability to continue as a going concern, disclosing, as applicable, matters related to going concern and using the going concern basis of accounting unless the directors either intends to liquidate the Funds or to cease operations, or have no realistic alternative but to do so.

Auditors' Responsibilities for the Audit of the Financial Information

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial information of the Funds as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditors' report that includes our opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance, but is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with approved standards on auditing in Malaysia and International Standards on Auditing will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in the aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of these financial information.

As part of an audit in accordance with approved standards on auditing in Malaysia and International Standards on Auditing, we exercise professional judgement and maintain professional scepticism throughout the audit. We also:

- Identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the financial information of the Funds, whether due to fraud or error, design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks, and obtain audit evidence that is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control.
- Obtain an understanding of internal control relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Funds' internal control.
- Evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates and related disclosures made by the directors.

• Conclude on the appropriateness of the directors' use of the going concern basis of accounting and, based on the audit evidence obtained, whether a material uncertainty exists related to events or conditions that may cast significant doubt on the Funds' ability to continue as a going concern. If we conclude that a material uncertainty exists, we are required to draw attention in our auditors' report to the related disclosures in the financial information of the Funds or, if such disclosures are inadequate, to modify our opinion. Our conclusions are based on the audit evidence obtained up to the date of our auditors' report. However, future events or conditions may cause the Funds to cease to continue as a going concern.

Fund Data

As at 31 December 2021 Net Asset Value per unit

Net Asset Value per unit RM0.504
Net Asset Value of Fund RM153,687,677

Market / Fund Review

Malaysia's manufacturing PMI improved further from 52.3pts in November to 52.8pts in December, the third straight month of growth in factory activity and the strongest since April. Production and new order volumes expanded aided by lifting of movement restrictions and demand recovery. New export sales also expanded on stronger demand from US and China.

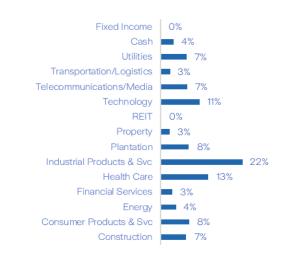

On OPR, we expect Bank Negara to hike 25bps in 2022 and 2023 each respectively from the current 1.75% but economists are turning more hawkish on the back of persistent inflationary pressures – the central bank projects CPI to ease from projected 2.4% in 2021 to 2.1% in 2022. The government estimates GDP growth of 3.0-4.0% for 2021, accelerating to 5.5-6.5% in 2022, based on the anticipated reopening of all economic and social sectors due to the advanced vaccination progress. It is still too early to measure the impact of Omicron on the economy.

Following the December rally, the market now trades at 15.8x forward PE and is approaching the 10-year historical mean of 16.5x. Further re-rating may be capped without meaningful earnings upgrades from the current relatively dull base case and political risks abound.

Investment Outlook and Strategy

Investor sentiment remains dented by the one-off broad-based Prosperity Tax which hurts corporate earnings in 2022 and fears over Omicron albeit them waning. We therefore adopt a balanced approach with adequate diversification, straddling reopening plays and sectors with structural or secular growth stories. The former includes value sectors such as Aluminum and Energy which have earnings upgrade potential. We remain steadfast in our strategy to Overweight cyclical themes such as Consumer Discretionary, Energy, Basic Materials, and selective Tech albeit reducing the Overweight. The market will likely be range-bound in 2022 but the index could rise comfortably to 1,600 pts by end-2022 should valuations revert to mean. Key risks to our view would be the derailment of Malaysia's macro recovery and corporate earnings growth due to a more severe impact of new Covid-19 variants and heightened political risks domestically, and larger-than-expected impact of rising inflation and consequently a more aggressive tapering.

For fixed income, we maintain our preference on the credit segment with focus on the primary issuances which offer better yield pickup. We are cognizant of potential curve re-pricing as credits spreads tightens below long-term averages. As the expectations of an interest rate hike intensifies, we prefer to maintain a neutral duration portfolio to mitigate adverse market movements ahead of Bank Negara's monetary policy action.

Market / Fund Review

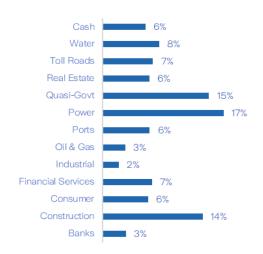

The rapid spread of the Covid-19 Omicron variant has raised concerns on fears of delaying reopenings. However, markets believe that the new variant would not shift the stance of central banks. Preliminary reports suggest that the Omicron symptoms to be mild and hospitalization rate is comparatively low. In addition, vaccine producers' quick responses in announcing adaptation of shots for Omicron have also helped to stabilize sentiment.

Malaysia's Consumer Price Index (CPI) showed an increase of +3.3% YoY in November (October: +2.9% YoY), surpassing the long-term average headline inflation of 1.6%. The rise was primarily driven by an increase in transportation costs (+ 12.7%), housing, water, electricity, gas and other fuels (+3.4%). Meanwhile, Industrial Production improved 5.5% YoY in October as compared to a 2.5% YoY rise in September. The rise was mainly attributable to higher manufacturing output (+8.0%) and electricity output (+4.1%) while mining sector production dropped (-3.5%). On a MoM basis, the Industrial Production increased by 4.8% against 3.7% in the previous month. Malaysia's trade continued to improve with total trade up by 34.9% YoY to RM205.5 billion. Trade surplus in November surged by 10.5% to RM18.9 billion in November as exports rose by 32.4% YoY and imports increased 38.0% YoY. The better export performance for the month was supported mainly by strong exports of electrical and electronics products, petroleum products as well as palm oil and palm oil-based agriculture products.

Investment Outlook and Strategy

With the fiscal deficit target of 6% for 2022 and sizeable maturity of MGS/MGII in 2022 totaling RM78.9 billion, we estimate the gross MGS/MGII funding for 2022 to be around RM165 billion (2021: RM160 billion and 2020: RM148.8 billion) given the proactive management of maturities via debt switches and some flexibility in government's funding strategy. In terms of spreads, the front end of the curve, especially the 3-year MGS appears more favourable based on historical averages, following continuous flattening of the sovereign yield curve. During the month, credit spreads tightened across tenor and rating segments, particularly on the long end of the curve; as the corporate bond yield curve bear flattened with the longer tenor 15-years and above moving lower by 8-13bps and 7-11bps for the AAA and AA2 segments respectively. The portfolio continues to maintain its strategy to overweight corporate sukuk against sovereigns for the additional yield pickup.

FBMS rallied 134.48pts or +1.1% and ended at 12,263.10pts, a decline of -6.8% for the year. Investors were relief given the severity of Omicron variant were decoupling of new cases and hospitalization rates. BNM is expected to hike 25bps in 2022 and 2023 each, from the current 1.75%. The government estimates GDP growth of 3.0-4.0% for 2021, accelerating to 5.5-6.5% in 2022 from reopening of all economic and social sectors in 4Q21 due to advanced vaccination progress.

We project 5% decline in earnings for the FBM KLCI for 2022 or +10% growth excluding the Glove sector. Banks, Gaming and Transportation account for 75% of the ex-gloves growth for 2022. The other major detractor is Plantation -consensus average CPO price forecast for 2022 is ~RM3,500/t vs current spot prices of above RM5,000/t. The market trades at 15.8x forward PE against the 10-year historical mean of 16.5x. Further re-rating is capped without meaningful earnings upgrades and political risks. Market / Fund Review

FBMKLCI rose 54 pts, or 3.5% mom, in Dec 2021 to close at 1,568 pts (vs. 1,514 pts in Nov). The gain was due to window-dressing activities as well as positive reaction to the government's decision on 30 Dec to extend the tax exemptions on foreign source income for individuals and foreign source dividend income for corporates for another five years (from 1 Jan 2022 till 31 Dec 2026). The MOF also proposed to reinstate a higher cap on stamp duty limit of RM1,000 effective 1 Jan 2022 (vs. previous proposal to abolish the duty limit); the stamp duty rate of 0.15% (effective 2 Jan 2022) was maintained.

Local institutional investors' turned net buyer of RM958m of equities in Dec from net seller in the previous month. Its net buy in Dec represented its highest monthly net buy for 2021. Foreign investors turned net seller of RM1.14bn of equities in Dec, after being a net buyer of Malaysian equities for four consecutive months.

The top three best-performing sectors in Dec were industrial products (+3.9% mom), finance (+3.5% mom) and transport (+2% mom). The five companies that registered positive mom gains in Dec were IHH (+11.6%), Press Metal (+8%), Petronas Gas (+7%), Axiata (+6.7%), and Genting (+6.1%). The top three worst performers on a mom basis in Dec were Hartalega (-11.7%), Top Glove (-11.6%) and Inari (-4.3%).

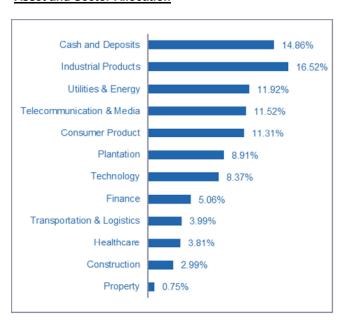

Investment Outlook and Strategy

In view of the recovering in the economy, we believe that corporate earnings downgrade is at the bottom. We believe the recent rise in inflation is a good sign for the revival of the pricing power among corporates and subsequently would be translated into higher profits. However, the recovery in the earnings growth may not materialise if the outcome of the Omicron Variant turns to be more lethal.

Assuming a base case of fast-spreading Omicron variant with less severity of deaths and hospitalization vs the Delta variant, we would expect corporates to maintain or grow profits due to the reopening of the economy.

The earnings growth has already been downgraded earlier after the introduction of the Cukai Makmur. Our strategy is to focus on the cyclical sectors like banking, industrials, energy, consumer discretionary, real estate and technology.

Investment Outlook and Strategy

In view of the recovering in the economy, we believe that corporate earnings downgrade is at the bottom. We believe the recent rise in inflation is a good sign for the revival of the pricing power among corporates and subsequently would be translated into higher profits. However, the recovery in the earnings growth may not materialise if the outcome of the Omicron Variant turns to be more lethal.

Assuming a base case of fast-spreading Omicron variant with less severity of deaths and hospitalization vs the Delta variant, we would expect corporates to maintain or grow profits due to the reopening of the economy.

The earnings growth has already been downgraded earlier after the introduction of the Cukai Makmur. Our strategy is to focus on the cyclical sectors like banking, industrials, energy, consumer discretionary, real estate and technology.

Market / Fund Review

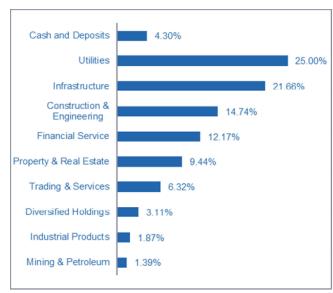

Demand for MGS was strong in beginning of December tracking US Treasuries movement. However, MGS yield trended higher the second week after studies from the UK and South Africa suggested that Omicron infections were less severe than Delta and following the US FOMC meeting, which saw a hawkish Fed announce a faster taper. Pressure for MGS demand continued until year end driven by a more cautious stand by investors against potential rate hike over the next 12 months. The 3y, 10y and 30y MGS finished the year at 2.81%, 3.62% and 4.14%, having increased by 93bp, 94bp and 35bp. The yield curve generally flattened, mainly driven by the hawkish FOMC intersected with worries over Omicron infection rates and an outlook for the global economy.

Mex II was unable to remit the Deferred Amount of c.RM107.8 million on the due date of 31 December 2021. As such, the Trustee has declared that an EOD has occurred on 3 January 2022. The Trustee has informed sukukholders that it shall execute the Letter of Engagement appointing Messrs Ernst & Young Advisory Services Sdn Bhd as the Receiver on 6 January 2022 to proceed with the recovery process and potential restructuring proposal.

Investment Outlook and Strategy

Normalisation' expected to be a theme for 2022. After two years adopting extremely supportive measures, most central banks and government around the world will start to be less supportive for their monetary and fiscal policies. Strong economic recovery that we saw in the early quarter of the year has moderated and remains uneven across the globe. The threat posed by supply chain bottlenecks and emerging new COVID variants, continue to pose challenges to inflation and global growth respectively.

We expect bond market to be slightly bearish in first quarter of 2022. For govvies, any sell-off will present an opportunity to buy in dips while for corporate bonds we expect pockets of attractive opportunities will be coming from primary issuance. Strategy wise, we will be focusing on income and investment level to remain around 85% to 90%.

FBMKLCI rose 54 pts, or 3.5% mom, in Dec 2021 to close at 1,568 pts (vs. 1,514 pts in Nov). The MOF also proposed to reinstate a higher cap on stamp duty limit of RM1,000 effective 1 Jan 2022 (vs. previous proposal to abolish the duty limit); the stamp duty rate of 0.15% (effective 2 Jan 2022) was maintained.

Market / Fund Review

The MSCI World Islamic Index increased 4.1% in spite of investors having to contend with volatility on the back of the rampant spread of the highly transmissible omicron variant, the Fed's pivot toward tackling inflation and the temporary shelving of President Biden's massive Build Back Better spending plan.

The Fed made a sharp hawkish turn in mid-December, announcing it will double the taper pace of its asset-purchase program and telegraphing a steeper path of rate hikes than market had expected.

Powell indicated that a rapidly strengthening economy and particulary strong employment gains, coupled with inflation that has continued to increase, are the factors behind this decision.

Investment Outlook and Strategy

While COVID-19 in its changing forms continues to blight the landscape, prospects for 2022 are robust. Global demand should be resilient, boosted by elevated savings and strong labour markets and capex spending, and we anticipate the global economy will continue to expand over the coming months. Inflation is elevated but there are some signs that upward price pressure is easing, along with energy prices.

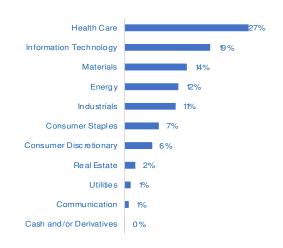

Central banks have shifted towards a tightening trajectory, which should help to alleviate some imbalances and anchor inflation expectations. For financial markets it will be less about abundant liquidity driving assets ever higher seen in 2021, and more about corporate fundamentals and valuations determining market moves.

Market / Fund Review

In Malaysia, local indices outperformed regional peers with the KLCI rising 3.5% and FBM100 2.3%. Despite concerns over the potential impact of flooding in Malaysia on corporate earnings and Omicron virus impact on the border reopening plans, market was strong with help from window-dressing activities as well as positive reaction to government's decision on 30 December to extend the tax exemptions on foreign sourced income for individuals and foreign sourced dividend income for corporates for another 5 years (from 1 January 2022 till 31 December 2026). MOF has also proposed to reinstate a higher cap on stamp duty limit of RM1,000 effective 1 January 2022 as opposed to previous proposal to abolish the duty limit.

Commodities rebounded in December as investors appeared less worried on the new Omicron variant which is proving to be milder than prior ones. Brent crude oil ended December at US$77.8/bbl, up 10.2% and CPO remained flat at RM4,697/metric tonne. Markets are increasingly optimistic about reopening, strong demand recovery, and supply deficits despite OPEC+'s announcement of hiking output by 400,000 barrel per day in January. US crude oil inventories also declined 13.1 million barrels in the month of December.

Investment Outlook and Strategy

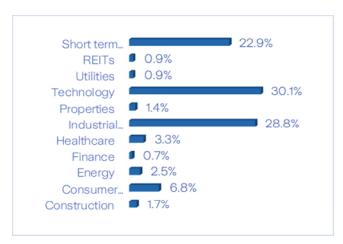

Malaysian equities are expected to be supported by a positive macro backdrop as growth recovers from the post pandemic impact. Monetary policy also remains supportive with hikes only expected towards the second half of 2022. Corporate earnings are expected to rebound in line with GDP, although Cukai Makmur will reduce some of the earnings growth for the large caps.

We maintain a barbell investment strategy, focusing on recovery/reopening and structural growth themes. For recovery themes, we focus on cyclical sectors such as consumer discretionary, industrials and materials. For structural growth themes, we prefer sectors such as technology, manufacturing and exporters. We remain buyers on market weakness.
